George Meade

While attending SMU on a track scholarship, Monika Korra a Norwegian student was abducted and brutally sexually assaulted as she was walked back to her dormitory with a friend. Monika will share her story and the steps that she took towards healing. She openly talks about what she's been through and how she recovered. Monika found her way back to a normal life, and she hopes to inspire others that may have faced challenges in their lives to do the same. While the crimes committed against Monika were horrific, her speaking confronts these issues head on in a way that uplifts & inspires her audience. She focuses on the recovery process and addresses the challenges she met on the way. Along with this, Monika talks about the many factors that were key to her healing process.
